THERE IS STILL HOPE

By Jim Manes

With spring on its way, due in town any day,

It's time for the birdies to fly
In a regular swarm, from the south
where it's warm,

Back to trees here in windy ol' Chi.
Some robins and sparrows are with us right now.

And their numbers are bound to increase.

Now what would you say, if the birds
bound this way

Brought with them the white Dove of Peace.

P. S.—"Welcome to our land."

NO BIPARTISAN AGREEMENT FOR NEW CONGRESS

Washington, March 28.—Hope for a bipartisan organization of the house seemed finally lost today when Rep. Mann, minority leader, following a conference with Majority Leader Kitchin, said he believed both Republicans and Democrats would present complete tickets in the house Monday.

CHI. ATHLETIC ASS'N URGES UNIVERSAL TRAINING

The name of practically every member of the Chicago Athletic ass'n is signed to a letter today forwarded to Pres. Wilson urging that he use his influence to have universal military service legislation passed at the coming session of congress. The names filled 13 pages.

NEW YORK STOCKS.—War issues up in active market.
